U.F.A. Convention In Calgary This Week

The annual U.F.A. convention opens in Calgary today, when over seven delegates are expected to attend. The Western Bow Valley district will be strongly represented, every local sending one or more delegates.

Many important questions are coming before the convention, one of the most important being that of bringing back the membership to its former strength. The general financial conditions have hit the U.F.A., as well as other organizations, and its membership has suffered a severe decline.

IRRIGATED CROPS IN SOUTH AVERAGES $2.07 ACRE

Value of Field Crops Along From 58,000 Acres Near Lethbridge Worth Total $1,139,063.

Each acre of irrigated land in the Lethbridge, Calgary, Stirling, Hayswood, Welling and Marsh districts produced field crops worth $2.07 an acre, according to a summary of the U.F.A.'s operations which the C.F.R. officials have prepared. There are 58,000 acres in the project, which brings the value of their crops to $1,139,063.

An interesting comparison is given showing that over tests covering a number of years land which was not irrigated yielded 15.5 bushels to the acre; one irrigation in the summer gave 26.7 bushels; one irrigation in the summer 22.5 bushels; and crops irrigated once in the fall and once in the summer gave 37.2 bushels.

Barrister Gets Seven Years for Theft

H. A. Sinnott, Calgary barrister and former mayor, was sentenced to seven years' imprisonment in the Prince Albert penitentiary by Magistrate Sanders in police court today. He had pleaded guilty to two charges of misappropriating trust funds. He was charged with converting to his own use $1,000 entrusted to him by Mrs. Alice O'Sullivan and $1,000 by Samuel Hevey.

Mr. Sinnott was represented by A. L. Smith, K.C. He answered "guilty" when the two charges were read out to him.

A strong plea for leniency on behalf of Mr. Sinnott was made by Mr. Smith. He referred to the excellent character which the accused had previously held while a citizen of Calgary during the past 22 years.

Magistrate Severe

In summing up, Magistrate Sanders said that by misappropriating trust funds the accused had committed a very serious crime. He referred to Mr. Sinnott's term as a public official and considered it to be all the more deplorable when a man of such previous good character had allowed the extent of his position as a barrister, in whom clients had placed blind faith, should appropriate their funds to his own use.

The magistrate said that the penalty he would impose should be deterrent to others.

"You are a member of a profession which the police trust. You have betrayed that trust. Trust money placed in the hands of a lawyer should be as safe as if in the Bank of England. Unfortunately, today, I have reason to believe that such is not the case," Magistrate Sanders said. — Albertian

Home Brew Is Lawful

IF NOT DISTILLED

A lot of people have been slipping what they thought was forbidden into the shape of home brew. It would not be going too far to say that in almost fifty per cent. of the homes in the district there is a store jar of some three to five gallon capacity in which from time to time appears a liquid which chokes and which might inebriate if consumed in sufficient quantity.

There is one correct, however, in which many homebrewers have neglected the letter of the law.

The home brewer must supply to the collector of excise, at the Calgary office, or by direct application to Ottawa for a permit. This costs nothing but it must be accompanied by the applicant's name and address and an assurance that the beer is to be made for home consumption only.

The home brewer must have a permit that it is legal to distill liquor and that his mixture will be a visit from revenue officers, fines and all sorts of unpleasant consequences.

Manufacture of beer at home under these conditions is sanctioned by section 159 of the Inland Revenue Act.

Dry Land Farming

In the Farm and Ranch Review for January 5, 1923, there is an article on "Dry Land Farming" describing the method of Mr. R. K. Bohanan of Sibbald, Alta., who has made a great success of farming under dryland conditions in Southern Alberta. He has sold about $20,000 worth of grain from 180 acres of land during the last five dry years. This year he had ten acres of registered Marquis wheat yielding 30 bushels per acre, 150 acres of Red Bobs wheat yielding 25 bushels per acre. There was also some corn, which gave three feet high and would yield about 50 bushels per acre. Eighty acres of the land is in permanent pasture. The soil is a clay loam. Approximately two hundred acres of land are in summer tillage each year. The system is about as follows: In the spring, the land is plowed in the first and second cuts, the land is leveled down with the Arme Harrow then drilled with about 8 inches of wheat per acre and followed with a pecker and drag harrow. The land is harrowed after the grain is in, which kills weeds and keeps the ground moist. If the field is very dry, one more seed and harrow.

Immediately after seeding Mr. Bohanan states that the land is covered for summer tillage, using a 6 to 10 tooth hand level diskless cultivator with blades not less than 12 inches wide. The implement is drawn by 6 horses and estimates to a depth of four inches.

The next cultivation is at right angles to the first and about two weeks deeper, adding two horses and turning off the two outside diskless blades. For corn land the next cultivation is made with a hoe to a depth of about eight inches. Either more horses must be added or additional diskless blades used. This cultivation is parallel to the first one. There must be no growth of any kind left, and Mr. Bohanan says over his field in September with less than one inch of snow the few cold winds that have swept his cultivator.

The success of the method depends on good control, conservation of moisture and reduction in cost of production.

Plowing dry land turns under weed seeds which germinate and come to the surface in the crop. If the stubble at the fall is evenly it should be cultivated to a certain depth, the furrows should be made to hold the snow. Mr. Bohanan's fields are clean enough to leave the stubble which holds the snow best.

Mr. Bohanan claims that with one man and six to eight horse outfit that he can average four acres per day of complete summer tillage during the growing period.

In commenting on this method of handling dry land I would say that it represented a very encouraging picture of the results of good methods under dry land conditions in Alberta and that the success of the method described by a distinct advance over usual methods, although a good part of the success of Mr. Bohanan is due to the fact that his soil is well down to the right time.

Under some soil conditions irrigation to a depth of 12 to 14 inches would be desirable as a preliminary to the application of this method.

All farmers in the dry belt should study the lay of their land and by a suitable system of conserving water for use by irrigation and in other cases water can be diverted during the spring run off from come water courses by dams and carried by ditches to the farm land. By use of such methods of conserving water, all or part of the cultivated land can be considerably improved in respect to crop production.

For a permanent system of dry land farming, however, there must be in addition to all these methods a rotation with a grass crop, such as bromegrass.

Weeks Carnival Is Proposed for February

Plans for a full week's carnival in Strathmore during the month of February have been taken up by the Board of Trade, and while the project is an ambitious one, yet with the proper facilities now enjoyed here, there is no reason why it should not be entirely successful, if the local people cooperate. The plans include a hockey tournament, curling, basketball, ice skating, dance, concert, etc.

Nothing of the sort has ever been attempted here in the past, but with the population of the town and district surrounding, and the interest which is being taken in sport this winter there is no reason why it should not be thoroughly successful.

Those interested should get in touch with Tommy Wright or other local live wires who are promoting the project.

He instructed Mr. Hill to see that he was brought before the court for trial. B. R. Cory, of Glenora, defended the prisoner.

and western rye grass or sweet clover coupled with some form of livestock so that the straw and manure can be returned to the land. The fertilizer kept up. The growing of sunflowers and using them with wheat straw for mulch is probably another essential part of the program. The use of 8 and 12 horse teams reduces expense.

A good garden and grove of trees is necessary for making a farm home. Mr. Bohanan has a fine garden, water supply for shelter and to hold the snow but trees should be planted and cared for, particularly conifers. Run a main pipe and laid head willow. The garden in this case was cultivated 12 inches deep in the fall and then bent mulched with straw, the ground surface and splendid results secured.

In conclusion, it is my opinion that a good soil and slopes that can be worked, can be farmed successfully if held in the right sized farm unit and series sufficiently low to represent average production returns over a long series of years. Grazing land should be included in such farm units, where, owing to soil or topography, they exist adjacent to good farm lands.

Radio Contest Will Finish Saturday

Boys Are Working Hard To Secure coveted Prizes.

Excitement is at feverish among the boys engaged in the Radiophone Competition promoted by the Strathmore Standard and Health Drug Store and they are spending no more time at the top on Saturday, when the contest closes. Votes not in by 6 p.m. on January 20th will not be counted, as the contest closes then.

The count taken on Monday of the contest did not show much change in the standing, and it is apparent that some of the candidates are holding back their coupons for the big count on Saturday.

There is therefore no certainty as to who may win the three prizes and the work done from now until Saturday will tell strongly in the final.

The marquee which are being given as first and second prizes will give their winners the opportunity of hearing every night from various parts of the United States, having a range of over one thousand miles, and the third prize set will give the Calgary concert, etc., broadcasted from there.

Globe Trotter Almost Walks Out

"Canada's outrageous and intemperate" treatment is responsible for this.

The words found on a scrap of paper lying beside a man named Wm. Coulter, aged 46, who was found poisoned for alive Thursday on the steps of the Canadian High Commissioner's office. Coulter is said to have come from Vancouver.

It was ascertained that for months past the man had caused considerable annoyance in the Canadian authorities in London, who apparently had shown every consideration. They had given Coulter money for a ticket to Southampton and passage home, but he returned to the Canadian office in a few days.

It will be remembered last summer that a man bearing the same name as that given in the London despatch passed through Strathmore on a walking tour. He gave it as his object that he was going to walk from Vancouver to Ottawa to lay his grievances before the Government at Ottawa. He claims to be a veteran, and several of the local veterans arranged to have him given the promise of a job but when this was offered to him he would not take it, and the vets decided that if he was rather weak than work they could not do anything for him, and he kept on going. Most of the vets who have been on active service and the idea the month walking was provided there to last any normal being for the rest of his natural life.

Divide Your Dollars With Your Neighbor BUY AT HOME

Everybody has a certain amount of civic pride—that sort of pride which helps make a village a town, and a town a metropolitan city.

The growth of any community is dependent upon the support given its citizens. If we fail in our co-operation the town either stands still or retrogrades. If we uphold the town by sustaining it wholeheartedly we help ourselves and the community. The theme of this advertisement is: 'Help our town; buy at home.'

Let us divide our dollars among our neighbors and fellow-citizens who have the interests of the community at heart. Help them and they will help us to greater values—for increased volume means decreased costs.

The town needs our support and we need the support of the town. Let's get together and share our fortunes.

Davidson Wins

The hypothesis for the city of Calgary has been followed with considerable attention in the country, and the election of Mr. W. M. Davidson by a large majority over his opponent, Mr. Clinton J. Ford, has been interpreted as an expression of the sympathy of the people of the city of Calgary with the people of the rural districts.

Another factor which aroused the sympathy of the outside public with Mr. Davidson was that he stood as an independent candidate, while his opponent represented both the Conservative and Liberal parties. The feeling is that there is no room for Dominion politics in provincial affairs, and there does not seem to be any reason that a man's politics should enable him to achieve better results in a field whose activities are restricted to road and highway construction, collection of taxes, and so forth. The people of Western Canada have definitely turned their backs on party politics. That was one desirable result of the great war. It exposed the shallowness of party politics.

It has been the complaint of farmer leaders that the city people took little or no interest in the questions which directly concern the prosperity of the farmer, and, in doing so, being the basis industry of Western Canada, directly affect the interests of the city dweller.

For instance, very few city people took any interest in the establishment or non-establishment of the Wheat Board and yet the marketing problem is one that vitally concerns the prosperity of the whole country.

Mr. Davidson has the distinction of being a real independent. He acted as such in the last year when the Provincial House, and may be looked for to preserve his independence in the present House.

The Conservative and Liberal parties have put themselves on record as against group government. They have their objections in that it is unconstitutional and undemocratic, which is a very narrow view to take. The constitution of Great Britain is ever changing, and the second largest party in the British House of Commons at the present time is the Labor Party, which is elected on a group basis. Old systems will not always fit new conditions, and the argument for group government can not be met except by intelligent reasoning.

The U.F.A.

This week this annual convention of the U.F.A. will be held in the city of Calgary. The U.F.A. has been a very effective force in Alberta for a number of years, and there is no doubt that it will continue to be so for a number of years more, so long as it is properly directed.

Strathmore U.F.A., unfortunately, has not received the support of a large number of farmers in the district from which it is entitled to draw its membership. This has been ascribed by some to the doctrine which have been preached there from time to time. There is no doubt that there has been an ultra-radical element in Strathmore Local. At one time it manifested itself in open hostility to the directors of the U.F.A., but lately it has concerned itself with schemes and ideas that are as long way removed from practical affairs.

However, Strathmore Local has this year elected new office bearers and is hoping that every farmer in the district will join for the common good, splendid opportunity for town and country to combine this year. The Town of Strathmore has a live Board of Trade this year, and they and the U.F.A. should be able to work well together to further the interests of the district. The good farmer understands the science of production, and his good business man should understand the science of marketing. We are all at the present moment contributing to some extent in this western country, but if we can only go together once in a while, we could understand each other's point of view better, and help each other along.

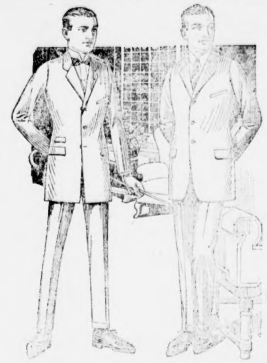

Beiseker School

Clears Up Arrears

Mr. John J. Goss, secretary-treasurer of Beiseker consolidated school district, points with pride to the fact that at the end of 1922 there was not a cent of outstanding arrears on the books of the district. This is a record which any municipal body might envy, and it reflects a great deal of credit on Mr. Goss, the school board, and more particularly on the taxpayers of the district.

This unique position was brought about, says Mr. Goss, by simply applying business methods to the work of collection. It was all done in ten months. In the present election the district has repaid a fifteen-month delinquency, which will not mean a saving in interest of $2,200.

Of the current year's taxes the district collected $2,825.00 net. Of arrears, including notes, grants and dues running back as far as twelve years, they collected $3,000.00, leaving not one dollar outstanding on their books. Beiseker challenges other school districts to equal this record.

Red Cross Notes

The Red Cross with its strong appeal to young people to "Serve others" has nowhere found better exponents of its creed than in the Little town of Alderson where there is an active branch at work looking after local cases of distress. It was a pleasure to receive an invitation to the Junior Red Cross and see them stage a Healthy Play and Red Cross entertainment. Pioneering from the ground up was the production of Lolly-Pop With its cast of six and twenty actors, none of whom had appeared in dramatic work before. The play was a success and the group that did not daunt the Alderson Jr. who, with the assistance of the High School Principal speedily set to work to build the same with planks. Seenery there was none, and the play called for a garden in the Palace. With building paper and crayons, the children produced a garden, showing a green sward and tall trees that

With your kind permission I would use a little space in your valuable in your paper the advert of D. F. Austin, or ammoniacus, &c., appears. In reading this over you would naturally think this man is very anxious to buy a good Canadian farm; but such is not the case, he only wants to sell your farm, and for so doing he asks you to send him ten dollars as an advanced listing fee, and to show him your good faith in the matter. As soon as he finds a buyer you are to pay him two per cent. commission, less the ten dollars.

This fellow is known as the "Rural New Yorker," calls "an easy money artist." He gets the cash and you get the experience. This man's advert, appear in the Western Home Monthly, N. Y. I doubt his harvest was so good but looking for some more suckers. The old saying, "every sucker dies, two are born in his place," seems to hold in this case. There are several of this class of fellows in the game, all in the U.S.A. Their adverts, appear in nearly all the Canadian papers, such as the Farmers Advocate, Western Home Monthly, of Winnipeg, Canadian Farmer, of Toronto, etc. The publishers seem to think more of the paltry amount they receive from the advertisement than the protection of their subscribers. In the issue of the Western Home Monthly, the "Rural New Yorker" says about a man whose "Add" you are carrying:

"Looking for suckers. D. F. Bush advertises as prospective purchaser of farms. (Signed) L.N.Y. New York."

Sales Agency, Minneapolis, Minn. It pretends to sell farms, but as many times explained the purpose of his advertising is to secure a "listing fee." A nice easy money scheme for Mr. Bush. There seems to be no pay of putting a stop to this class of schemes, but we hope the repented publicity given them in the "R.N.Y." will have more than 200,000 farmers from taking the bait at any rate.

You could not get this advert. in the "Rural New Yorker," or "Country gentleman," at any price, and I hope this warning will save the subscribers of this paper from parting with their money before they receive value for it. Thanking you, Mr. Editor, I am,

Yours truly,
H. T. LAWSON.
We (we are pleased to hear from Mr. Lawson with regard to this alleged representation by an advertiser, and we are glad to see that he is taking this advertising until we hear from Mr. Bush with regard to this. The advt. is not a "pull" or "persuade" to our readers, and of course the party who answers the advt. does not require to send the money unless he is willing to be deceived. As to the matter of fact, we have on many occasions refused advertising which we believe to be of a fraudulent or deceptive character, and we have no intention of accepting any such advertising from ourselves, especially with regard to oil stock, and we have within the present week refused paid advertising for the "pushing" of the sale of Indian charms and knobs, with which we have no connection. The advertiser's business is offered to the public, and we are not responsible for the whole of our pages and while we look into the character of all our advertising proposals, we cannot be held responsible for information from any reader as to alleged misrepresentation in advt. appearing in our columns. than the Kitchen Mascot. Carrots, disguised as a humble Scullery-maid, the scene closed with Every-child swearing allegiance to the Court of Fresh Air, Sunshine, The Court of Pure Water and Plain Food and the Court of Courteous and Kindly Deeds. The Alderson Juniors had attempted an ambitious piece of work but their efforts were rewarded with success, for they presented this highly educative play in a most creditable manner, which gave great pleasure to a large and appreciative audience of Red Cross friends.

ARREARS OF TAXES

The Following is a Synopsis of the Tax Recovery Act in Alberta.

The new Tax Recovery Act in Alberta passed at the last session is now in operation, and owners in arrears of taxes had still after August 1916 to pay up, but if arrears remain unpaid after that date, the Municipality files a Caveat against the land, and within one year of the date of filing of the caveat will apply to the land. During the year, owners may pay arrears and costs and so have the caveat withdrawn. After title is taken by the Municipality the owner may still redeem the land up to the time it is offered for sale.

Provision is also made whereby land in arrears of taxes are advertised in the Official Gazette in the month of March that their lands are in arrears and if not redeemed within the redemption period they pass finally into the possession of the Municipality, free from all encumbrances except claims for Seed Grain or relief liens.

RAINFALL IN SOUTH

A rather heavy fall of rain was reported from the Lethbridge district on January 10. Mild weather has been prevailing over the entire province for the past few weeks. From Lethbridge to the mountains, the rain was heavy, water running down the curbs in Lethbridge.

BAINTREE NOTES

The holiday time has come and gone and it certainly was a merry one while it lasted. From the Xmas entertainment for the children at the district at the schoolhouse, to the end of New Year's day, it was one round of festivity.

One of the pleasant affairs which took place at Baintree was the surprise party on Jan. 2, Blake, manager of the Home Elevator Co., on Tuesday evening, the 20th. A number of his friends took possession of his home and enjoyed themselves with cards and dancing.

There was a general interchange of dinners throughout the neighborhood. Miss Mae Longbeach spent the holidays in Lethbridge.

James Galloway and Matt Shogren, a friend of hers in Calgary.

Miss Bertha Milburn, sister of Mr. John Milburn, arrived on December 24th from Berlin, Germany, to make her home with her brother.

The U.F.A. held a meeting at which they arranged to send a delegation to attend the meeting called to organize a district association at Rockyford. Mr. Fenton Smith was elected to head the delegation.

Mrs. Homer Robinson has been in Calgary for the holidays. Mr. Homer Robinson left for Calgary on Tuesday evening train.

Mrs. Victor Chisholm, who has been in Calgary for some time past taking some special treatment, returned home for the holidays. Mrs. Chapman is much improved in health, but returned again to Calgary on Tuesday for another ten days treatment. She is accompanied by her little daughter Bertha.

Miss Frances E. Wyman spent the holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. P. E. Wyman, returning again to the Normal school in Calgary last Tuesday evening.

Miss Stanford, who has been teaching the Baintree school last year, is passing during the holidays.

KEOMA ITEMS

The Keoma Rangers have started the New Year is a fine way with the second dance since Xmas. A good time was enjoyed by the crowd.

Among these installing rails into in 1921 are: Keoma Trading Co., Mr. G. Koch, Mrs. T. Hinton.

Mr. W. Irvine, M.P., gave a very interesting talk on January 2nd, relative to his experience in Canada. He stated that it was directly through the Progressives that the farmer in Western Canada got the seven cents cut in freight rates in 1914. He was asked to do his best to reduce freight rates west to the coast.

A recent session of the U.F.A. was held to elect a new district secretary, as a delegate to the annual convention.

The community has this opportunity of visiting Mr. N. Gordon, representative of his organization to the Canadian "Noblewoman."

This winter is the coldest one for several years, and the road situation is well in hand.

Miss Phillips family is spending a few weeks with her sister at Vulcan.

Freddie Allport is staying with Mr. Henryman and family at Arnes house he is attending school.
